Concert - Tues 26th AUG 2025

Lee Dewsnap

Lee from Brentford Middlesex is an artiste who's organ prowess arose at age seven in 1995.

Lee's stated ambition is to bring more keyboard instrument variety to concerts. He performs in concert often playing a Yamaha EL-900 Electronic Organ and a Yamaha DGX-650 Electronic Piano.

Lee's style provides a concert with a more up-to-date program, unique and personal. He plays styles including,

Film, Classical, Big Band & New Age. he is enthusiastic about keeping the circuit going. His wish to encourage the next generation to experience the joys of the instrumental keyboard. Outside the circuit, Lee plays in a local church and is Musical Director of a local amateur operatic company where in the last few years he has rearranged the orchestral scores of four Gilbert and Sullivan Operas for the electronic organ, He hopes this will be another way to show people what the organ and keyboard can do.

Lee has once played for us before where he arrived with both the large and heavy Yamaha EL900 and Yamaha DGX-650 Piano. These he unloaded and subsequently loaded with an electric winch in his van. In itself an interesting performance.

A full list of what Lee has done and is going to be doing in the near future can be found on his website — www.leedewsnap.com

Next Concert - Paul McCulloch 23rd Sept 2025

Paul McCulloch,

Joiner, builder, This was Paul's prior vocation but our interest is very much that of his present calling as an organ keyboard artiste, this now his career. Paul from Merseyside will be intent on enthraling us with his musical skill. Few at BOKC may know what to expect and its thought this would be his first performance for us for many years.

Like most successful musicians, Paul learnt while young, he was nine, but unusually he went straight to take up organ playing without the more usual piano first. By the time he was 16 he was winning prizes including young theatre organist of the year.

He went on to play at venues across the country including the Odeon Leicester Square.

Last concert - David Ingley 22d Jul 2025

David played his trusty Technics GA3 organ using a midi connected Yamaha PSR8000 keyboard to give extra variety to the sounds produced. A wide range of enjoyable music throughout the afternoon where lies David's appeal, but very much he is the first to see the humour in his jokes.

Many thanks are due to The raffle crew who collated detail of the music performed for us this month.
